WCGS BYLAWS REVISION UPDATE
The voting is now closed on the WCGS Bylaws Revision. The deadline for ballots to be postmarked was August 31, 2022. In light of the occasional delays in mail delivery, we will allow an extra 10 days before counting and posting the results. Thank you to everyone who responded. It was nice to hear from many of you that we don't get the opportunity to see or talk with as often as we like.

You may view the current WCGS Bylaws and access a copy of the Proposed WCGS Bylaws Revision here:

WARREN COUNTY DEEDS ONLINE

In the April 2022 e-News, we listed the many indexes that the Warren County Records Center and Archives has available online. Did you know that you can access Deeds online, as well? Similar to the Laredo system that is available in our library, the Warren County Recorder's Office has "AVA" for online research. Start by reading and clicking Accept on the Welcome page of the Public Records Search. From there, you can enter a variety of things to start your search. If you are having trouble finding records, try just using the Book and Page numbers, as spelling can throw off some searches. You may be able to find the Book and Page numbers by checking the Indexes available on our old website (one example: http://www.wcgsoh.org/Will-Estate-EName-OCP.htm) or using online indexes at the Warren County Records Center and Archives!

Once you get the results of your search, click the line with the results to get to the document icon.

Then click the document icon to see the image of the document. Happy searching!

60 MINUTES: "SHARSWOOD"

On August 28, 60 Minutes aired an excellent episode (Season 54, Episode 54) about Fred Miller and his family, who bought a large house in southern Virginia and discovered that their own ancestors were once enslaved there. This was a remarkable story and involved many of the things we hold dear: family history, genealogical research, cemeteries, and a connection to the property. If you have the opportunity, it is definitely worth your time to seek it out and watch it. Spectrum (Cincinnati market) has it available On Demand until September 4. CBS.com has it available online: https://www.cbs.com/shows/60_minutes/episodes/54/
